

Association of Collegiate Business Schools & Programs
ACBSP Annual Edition: Recognizing Excellence in Business Education

Invited Call for Papers

The extended deadline for submittal of responses to the Call for Papers was January 15, 2010. Papers are no longer being accepted.

If you submitted a response to this Call for Papers it should have been acknowledged to verify it has been received in a format for review and possible publication. If you submitted a paper and it was not acknowledged, please contact Annette Craven at craven@uiwtx.edu. If you did submit and wish to receive a verification message to determine the status of review, that can be provided by contacting Annette.

Authors will receive two peer review reports by March 5, 2010 and notification if their paper has been accepted for publication. Final papers are due no later than April 1, 2010.

Approved papers will be published in the ACBSP Annual Edition: Recognizing Excellence in Business Education. This inaugural issue will be distributed at the ACBSP 2010 Annual Conference at L.A. Live. All authors will receive a copy of the publication.

Authors who wish to make a presentation at the Annual Conference are not assured of making a presentation. There is a separate process for a submittal in response to a Call for Presentations. Please submit the documentation as requested in the Call for Presentations. The deadline is January 29, 2010.

If you were not able to meet our extended deadline of January 15, 2010, you may still write a paper for presentation as a response to the Call for Presentations. The only implication is it will not be published in the Annual Edition.

We look forward to seeing you in June at L.A. Live.

Annette Craven
University of the Incarnate Word
President-elect, ACBSP
Staff Liaison, Committee For Scholar-Practitioner Publications