THOMAS MORE
COLLEGE
TOGETHER IN PURSUIT OF TRUTH

Assistant Professor – Quantitative Methods in Business

Thomas More College, located in Crestview Hills, Ky., in the Greater Cincinnati Area, is a small, private liberal arts Catholic college. The Department of Business invites applicants to apply for a full-time tenure-track assistant professorship beginning August 2012.

Qualifications and Responsibilities:

A Ph.D. is required. The position requires broad training in the field of quantitative methods and the expertise to teach upper level courses such as Mathematical Modeling in the Management Sciences, as well as various lower level courses, including Mathematics for Business Decision Making. In addition to teaching, the successful candidate will be expected to provide academic advising for business majors, serve on college committees and develop and evaluate research with graduate and undergraduate students. Successful candidates must provide evidence of quality teaching experience.

The Department of Business Administration has approximately 600 students. For further information about Thomas More College, see our web site at: www.thomasmore.edu.

Application Process:

Send curriculum vitae, unofficial graduate and undergraduate transcripts, statements of teaching philosophy and research interests, and three letters of recommendation by February 29, 2012 to:
